

IT'S THE

By Joe Sellman-Leava with Dylan Howells
Developed with and directed by Katharina Reinthaller

ECONOMY, STUPID!

City Girl Network

The Stage

Artshub

EdFringe Review

The List

Theatre Weekly

The RealChrisparkle

Playbill

DarkChat

Broadway Baby

British Theatre Guide

Adventures in Theatreland

"THEATRE WITH A PURPOSE THAT IS ALWAYS VERY ENTERTAINING"

Lyn Gardner

"AN EFFECTIVE DOUBLE ACT"

The Guardian

Supported using public funding by
ARTS COUNCIL
ENGLAND

BUCKLAND NEWTON VILLAGE HALL

Fri 10 October, 7:30pm

£12.50, £6 (u18s), £35 (family) from artsreach.co.uk

in person from Old Chapel Stores or Tel: 01300 345455

Bar & Refreshments available (cash only) | Recommended 12+

Artsreach

supported by Dorset Council

"I remember when I first knew money was different from maths. Maths added up. But money was magic!"

Following a sold-out Edinburgh Fringe run and critically acclaimed tour, Joe Sellman-Leava and Dylan Howells are back: trying to uncover how the economy wins elections, dominates our lives - and why it's so bloody complicated! Using an old board game, projection-mapping and a pinch of magic, Joe and Dylan combine a true story, of a family caught up in a recession, with the economic forces that led the world from post-war boom to housing and cost-of-living crises. Surprising, moving and funny (no, really!) - IT'S THE ECONOMY, STUPID! is a bold new show from the Fringe First winning creators of LABELS and FANBOY.

10th October

Buckland Newton Village Hall

11th October

Briantspuddle Village Hall

12th October

Burton Bradstock Village Hall

"Smart, sharp writing...
Deftly blends the personal with the political"

★★★★ Natasha Tripney, The Stage

SUPPORTED BY

exeter phoenix

• PLEASANCE •

PROTEUS

Supported using public funding by
ARTS COUNCIL ENGLAND

X: @worklight_uk

Insta: worklighttheatre

worklighttheatre.co.uk